

How are they wired for learning?

Student profiling

Individual Learning Profiles, ILP, works by uncovering students' natural learning skills using our quick and simple brain and body dominance assessment. The assessment can be delivered to one pupil, a group or the whole class in under 20 minutes.

Identifying & targeting the right strategies

The ILP online teacher software uses the assessment to produce:

- Learning skills report for each student
- Intervention techniques to manage stress
- Class and group learning skills report
- Targeted teaching techniques
- Peer grouping strategies
- Class seating plans

One Programme for all

ILP is relevant for pupils aged between 8 - 16 years. It is suitable for primary or secondary teachers and SENCOs supporting all ages. ILP can be used for individuals or as a class, department, year group or whole school strategy.

Training that makes the difference

Our training will show you how to carry out the assessment, and how to use the ILP software and its features. The training will show how using our brain based teaching system, you can easily & efficiently raise standards of learning by:

- Personalising learning and providing each pupil with the most appropriate study and exam techniques
- Targeting the most effective teaching style to an individual, group or the whole class
- Tailoring the right type of assessment and using the most appropriate resources
- Applying specific intervention strategies to reduce stress and retain engagement in learning

Personal and Flexible training options

Depending on the training and software package you purchase, we can provide inservice training or one-to-one training and small group training during the school day.

Our flexible hours with the ILP Unlimited and Group 6 Account means you can use the hours you buy as you want, when you want.
